BOLERO 20 YEARS

Here at Bolero, we take furniture seriously.

We know that guests want more than great food and drink. They want an experience.

How your restaurant, bar or cafe looks is now as important as what you serve. And providing the right environment is just as likely to keep your customers coming back as your menu.

So finding the right furniture is hugely important. Here at Bolero, with over 20 years industry experience, we help you do just that.

Tables, chairs, parasols, gazebos and more – everything we design is made with the needs of busy businesses in mind. Each piece blends strength with style, giving you a variety of commercial-grade furniture pieces that are as strong in looks as they are in build.

The result is durable, long-lasting indoor and outdoor equipment that will never let you down.

We know how important time is to a business, too. That's why we won't leave you waiting around – with most of our furniture in stock and available for next day delivery, we can get it to you when you need it.

So, whether you're a bar, café, hotel, restaurant, bistro, conference hall or anything in between, we have what you need to impress your guests and create an environment they won't want to leave.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR FURNITURE LOOKING FRESH

A little maintenance goes a long way. Give your furniture some TLC from time to time and it'll provide you with years – or even decades – of use.

The biggest benefit of this? Saving you money! Sprucing up your seating is always cheaper than shelling out for new chairs.

So, save on your spending by following these simple steps.

CLEAN

Warm water and a quick wipe down will remove most of the everyday dirt from your furniture.

However, from time to time more serious stains might crop up. If warm water just isn't cutting it, try adding a light detergent - making sure it's well diluted - before trying again. This should cut through the most stubborn of stains.

For metal furniture, try a stainless steel cleaner. This will revive the shine and leave it looking next to new.

DUST

Microfibre cloths are the key to effective dusting, preventing the build-up of static which can draw dust to your furniture like a magnet.

Use with a quality polish to buff your furniture back to perfection.

For material seat pads and backs, use a vacuum cleaner with a soft brush attachment.

TREAT

Wood or metal polish can bring the shine back to fading furniture – while providing it with a protective layer that will keep it shipshape for longer.

For wooden outdoor furniture, use teak oil liberally to protect it from the elements and increase its service life. Properly treated wooden furniture can last for decades!

Metal outdoor furniture should be treated with a quality metal polish. This will leave it with a lustrous shine that's hard to beat.

PROTECT

Preventing damage is the most obvious way to prolong the life of your furniture.

For outside seating, moving it indoors when not in use can minimise the wear and tear exposure to the elements can cause. If you haven't got the space for this, try using chair or table covers.
